Carr to Retire as Executive Director

For over a decade, Rev. Jimmy L. Carr has faithfully served as the Executive Director of Lake Junaluska. With a lasting legacy established because of his strong leadership, Carr recently announced his retirement, effective at the conclusion of 2010.

"I will soon be in the eleventh year as Executive Director here at Lake Junaluska, and I feel that I have given the leadership I needed to give," Carr said. "These years have been challenging and rewarding. Joy, my wife, and I have enjoyed our opportunities for ministry at this very special place. We both feel now is the time to begin to enjoy a new chapter in our lives."

During his time as Executive Director, Carr has successfully spearheaded several major campaigns, including a fundraising campaign that collected $11 million dollars for improvements at Lake Junaluska, the establishment of a workplace discipleship program, and renovations of several lodging and meeting facilities around campus. As a result of Carr's leadership, the Lake Junaluska staff has striven to provide a quality experience to all who visit Lake Junaluska.

Upon retirement, Jimmy and Joy Carr will divide their retirement between Lake Junaluska and Brandon, Mississippi. Carr and his wife plan to enjoy spending more time with their children and grandchildren upon retirement. Read Full Article
